

The FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's telephone privacy law protections.